

Foreign Corrupt Practices Act Statement

LifeVantage is committed to a compliant culture where corruption and bribery in its business practices are not tolerated and where individual accountability for personal actions is required. LifeVantage requires all employees and independent distributors to agree to and adhere to personal conduct policies that prevent an employee or independent distributor from engaging in conduct that would violate internal rules of professional and business engagement, as well as conduct that would violate the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (“FCPA”). LifeVantage requires every employee and every independent distributor who serves on one of LifeVantage’s committees to attend FCPA training on an annual basis. This training emphasizes personal accountability and the compliant guidelines LifeVantage expects every person to adhere to when it comes to corrupt business practices and bribery related conduct.
